RICHMOND MAN PRESIDENT

Mr. W. W. Tiller Is Elected to That Position-Fine Banquet at Masonic Temple Last Night-Many Good Speeches Made.

The Retail Grocers and General Merchants of Virginia, held their final ses-session yesterday afternoon, and wound up with a fine banquet at the Masonic Temple last night.

The body will meet in Norfolk on the second Wednesday and Thursday in September next year. The following officers were elected at the final session, to serve for the ensuing year: President, W. W. Tiller, Richmond; First Vice-President, W. A. Moorman, Danville; Second Vice-President, H. S. James, Norfolk; Secretary, W. G. Quaries, Richmond; Treasurer, E. W. Shuridge, Newport News.

A resolution was adopted calling upon members not to patronize jobbers de-chared unfair by the association. The banquet at the Temple last night was en clasorate affair, and was prepared by H. W. Moesta. There were many toasts, and entertaining responses.

Attached to the horse was a buggy, also belonging to Mr. Heppert. The horse and buggy and Mr. Heppert went out to the Male Orphan Asylum to attend to some business.

Mr. Heppert left the horse and buggy standing out by the gate. The horse didn't like it, and started back toward the city. Faster and faster the horse ran. As it ran along within sight of the Horse Show amphitheatre it gave a scornful sniff and ran faster. When Randolph and Beverley and all the other streets had been swiftly past, the animal turned into Cary Street and made along, and it passe Madison school in almost no time. Fortunately the chil-dren were at their lessons and not playing marbles in the street. Several Traction cars came near being demolished and the robe and whip were lost.

So great was the speed of the animal that nobedy ran out in the street to stop it, although hundreds of people came from behind trees and places and watched the animal disappear in the distance. Many of them guessed it was an advertising scheme for the Horse Show. At First and Cary Streets the anima met its first rebuff. A plebeian cart filled with hides was there, right in the track of the horse in a hurry. The latter didn't have time to think. It surged a little to the side and the buggy, the cart and the hides formed a good barriade against the Traction cars and the three-minute schedule was smashed, while passengers cussed.

Relieved of the buggy and most of the harness, the animal ran faster. The noise it made brought Allen and Ginter's girls to the windows and awoke the sliepy crap players on lower Cary Street.

CHESTERFIELD COURT

The Long-Drawn-Out Condemnation Cases Settled by Compromise.

(Special Diseatch to The Times.) CHESTERFIELD, VA., Oct. 16.—The condemnation case of the Seaboard Air Line Railway against Lydia W. Cook and A. B. Cook, her husband, which has been pending so long, was settled by agreement between the parties and an order was entered here Monday approving the report of the commissioners ap pointed in the case at the September term of court, and allowing the defend-ant damages to the amount of $7,750.

The farm of Mrs. Cook, which was crossed by the Seaboard Air Line Rallway, is within a short distance of the city of Petersburg and has a valuable granite quarry situated upon it. Judges John 11. Ingram and L. L. Lewis and Mr. Willis B. Smith were counsel for the defendant in the case.

The condemnation case of the Richmond and Petersburg Electric Railway Company against Augustus Wright was also settled by agreement between the parties, damages of $1,500 being allowed

NEW RAILROAD COMBINE

Apparent Plan to Form a New Trunk Line with Water Terminus.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) FAYETTEVILLE, Oct. 16.-It is generally understood here, though no authoritative statement has yet been given out, that the Aberdeen and Rockfish Railroad properties have been bougat by a company of capitalists, represented by Messrs. C., and ing Cabarrus, Montgomery, Moore and Cumberland counties to Fayetteville, the head of navigation on the Cape Fear

This road will develop a country well adapted to the growth of the cereals, cotton and bright tobacco, and especially excellent for trucking and fruit-raising, particularly grapes. The lumber interests, too, are of no little importance, and two or three fine water powers only wait utilization.
The Aberdeen and Rockfish Railroad is a remarkable example of what may be accomplished by the indomitable en-ergy of one man. Mr. John Blue, its prosident and almost sole owner, is country born, and knows the shape of the plow handles. He has persevered through many years of hard work and difficulty until he has more than forty miles of road in profitable operation, and has already done much in opening to market the varied resources of the country.

RAILROAD BETTERMENTS

Liberal Settlement by Southern, N. & W. and C. & O.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)
BALTIMORE, Ocober 16.—The Manufacturers' Record Summarrizes the expenditures for extensions, betterments, etc., of several typical lines as follows: "The Southern Railway Company ex-pended last year for maintenance of way and structures, improvements and exten stons, $6.630.731, the improvements in-cluding the reductions of curves and grades on the St. Louis division, the building of new shops at Sheffield, Ala., the making of an extension from Littleton, Ala., to the Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron Company's mines, and the purchase of real estate at Birmingham, Louisville and other points.

"The Norfolk and Western Railway also spent largely, and reports a total of $2.899.457 for new branches and extensions, for improving bridges and tresties, for second track, and for alditional rolling stock.

The Chesapeake and Ohio was behind its neighbor, having paid out $2.823.505 for better improvements, including the station at Richmond. It has ding the station at Richmond. It has begun several projects for the current year which will entail an expenditure of more than $1,000,000, and is also continuing its work of substituting heavy steel bridges for masonry, and permanent embankments for light iron bridges and wooden trestles."

LACKED ONE CENT

Mr. Brown Colbert Came Very Near Getting on Registration Books. (Special Dispatch to The Times.)
LEXINGTON, VA., Octber 16.-A case

which has excited considerable interest here has been decided by the Circuit Court of Rockbridge, Judge S. Houston Letcher, presiding. John D. Brown was charged with selling liquor in Lexington, a local option district. Mayor Pierson imposed a fine of $100 and 6 months in jail. The County Court on appeal modified the sentence by fixing the fine at $200 and three months in jail. The Circuit Court confirmed the finding of the County Court.

The desire to register under the new Constitution has developed many pecu-liarities. Mr. Brown Colbert, of Kerr's Creek District, lacked but 1 cent of having the required assessment against him, so to remove this disability he applied to the County Court to increase his assessment, which after investigation was re-fused. The chestnut harvest in Rockbridge is at hand, and a large crop is reported.

Shut Out the A. T. Company and Also the British-American. Visit of Mr. Nimo.

C. Nimo, a tobacco magnate of Japan, read of the governmental department of that country, will shortly be in this city, and from the secresy which surrounds his coming and from what little can be learned of his purposes here, some developments of interest and importance to the tobacco world are expected to follow his visit.

On the local tobacco trade considerable believed by many that Mr. Nimo comes here in connection with a movement to change the entire attitude of the Japa-nese government toward the tobacco industry. At the present time, the system there is such that while it does not exclude outside manufacturers, it requires that the tobacco for these manufactories be purchased by the government, which charges a liberal tax. This scheme is said to have proved unsatisfactory and it is reported that Japan now wants to convert herself into a regie country like France and Italy, where the govern-ment handles the tobacco trade entirely. purchasing the weed, manufacturing it, and retailing it under State control. Under this system, none but government stores can operate within the bounds of the country.

The effect of such a change in the Japanese system would be widely felt her and elsewhere. It would, in the first place, have the effect of shutting out the American Tobaco Company, which is now established in Japan and which does the major portion of the trade there. It would also close the doors against the British-American Tobacco Company, the new con-cern which goes forth to capture the tobacco trade of the world. Last, but not least, it would place in the field another buyer, who would be a competitoragainst the American and the Imperial, and this vould serve to a certain extent, to stimulate prices. All this is interesting local view of the fact that Ispan would use a large quantity of tobacco from Virginia.
